

Pure Thoughts Radiant Feelings

There dwells the most brilliant wise, knowledgeable, innocent savvy, world-saving, beautiful woman-spirit-nature-saint in the most pristine, supportive, loving glade by a vibrant, immaculate lake and a specially vibrating lightning-rod tree rooted in Earth and connected to Heaven in the far reaches of the untouched, boreal Siberian taiga
now with her paramount daughter her son having left to co-create a Kin's Domain family alongside his father on the gift of a German eco-settlement hectare

Her parents bore her there though deceased before she could fully walk and the grasses, plants pollens, nectars squirrels, wolves, bears and a deva willingly, lovingly conspired to raise her magnificent

Her wise grand
and great grandfather knew to leave her there and came judiciously to visit and augment her education

Then the universe delivered Vladimir who brought her divine gold to the world
on the pages of his magnificent choppy books

ahh nah stah SEE yuh

Is she real?
Millions think so Tens of thousands are creating family gardens of Eden her inspiration having sparked their own innate wisdom

An American prophet-seer said twice twelve years apart
“The hope of the world will come out of Russia” Fifty years after his death the first book of her came forth actualizing that hope into the widespread expanse of our desperate suppurating
in-need

Could a cartoon fantasy bring forth such things?
