

The Ides of March

it's Monday the Ides of March 2065 years after the betrayal and murder of Julius Caesar and still we are ruled by the Lords of Money what a world we could have if only if only we weren't ruled by corporate power and greed if only our money, itself, weren't debt if only we were healthy if only we weren't destroying the balance of nature if only there were less ignorance, malevolence and hate if only we weren't living the degraded versions of our Selves if only each family could co-create with God and Earth their own little garden of Eden oh well

at least they hauled off that huge, overflowing dumpster (but now they've replaced it with a porta potty)