

Dear Novatech Member,

Since June of 2019 our focus at NovaTech has been to stimulate financial awareness, to a culture unaware of the amazing possibilities in the crypto and forex industry. By the grace of God, we have been tremendously successful at fulfilling our mission. We created NovaTech's structure with complete freedom in mind. We have given our customers absolute control of their journey with us for the last four years, and because of that we have become a household name in our space. Our drive to continue our mission for years and possibly decades to come is not about financial gain for us. There are unlimited ways we can make money without the level of stress, scrutiny, and responsibility that comes with our business. The driving force behind what we continue to do comes from the countless heartfelt testimonies of our members.

During the last quarter of 2022 we experienced a great deal of pressure with the ever-changing landscape of our industry. As you may already know we had to close our doors with a heavy heart to some of our most loyal and loving customers in NovaTech due to regulatory changes in specific regions. We know that most of you may not understand the impact this had on our business, and we as a company should have done a better job at communicating this with you. While we cannot go back in time to correct what has not been done, we will commit moving forward to giving all of our NovaTech customers the proper communication so that we all have realistic expectations. We want to assure you that our business model is not only strong, but completely sustainable into the unforeseeable future.

As we move forward in this new and developing 2023 season our experiences in the last several months of challenges has brought to light some weaknesses in the way we operate that we felt were strengths at one point as a new and growing company. NovaTech has always produced, performed, and paid every customer since its inception in June of 2019, regardless of the adversity we may have faced in every market condition in the last 4 years. While we don't compare ourselves to any other of the many platforms in our space, we know what we've done and what we continue to do is unprecedented. To protect what we've built and to continue to be the crypto trading asset management company we are, it is imperative that we create parameters within our business model that protects our customers from making erratic decisions that can affect the integrity of our program. NovaTech is unique in the fact that we've given our members complete control of how they move about with their crypto funds. But, in light of the forced closures of accounts from some of our beloved members, and the massive amounts of withdrawals we had to initiate, this created a tremendous amount of fear, uncertainty, and doubt that our customers have never had to experience. Because in the past we chose not to communicate what does not pertain to the functionality or success our business, we left some of you to fall victim to outside rhetoric, which influenced so many of you in making the decision to withdraw from your trading accounts to simply test if we are still paying. Please know that we continue to actively pay and release cashouts daily, despite delays.

As a result, we have decided to place a temporary freeze in trading account withdrawals for a period of 60 days. This includes existing cashout requests from Trading. This will allow us to immediately start the process of getting back to regularly scheduled bonus account withdrawals.

We understand this may not fare well with a small percentage of you, but we are here to protect our future as a whole, and we refuse to compromise our crypto asset management and trading strategies for the few that may not understand. If you have a trading account withdrawal in process, you have a choice to leave it in the queue, and wait until April 1st 2023 when we will resume trading account withdrawals, or you can cancel your withdrawals and allow your account to continue to earn, while withdrawing profits weekly. The goal with NovaTech is to create sustainable passive profits of which we have done an amazing job thus far, and will continue with God's grace. Let's all protect our house by eliminating the noise on the outside by staying plugged in and in communication on the inside. Every member of NovaTech should have an up-line who's connected to one of our many Senior Directors and Ambassadors in NovaTech. We love every last one of you, we appreciate you, and we will continue business as usual.
